MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

- Jill Burris, our club president, presided over our meeting Sunday, March 17 in the Anderson County Library. Thank you Christopher Blackston and Jane Reeves for our delicious and plentiful refreshments!
- We began with the club's financial updates from our treasurer Fran Crumley. She noted that the club received $275.00 profit from the Clemson Fall Plant Sale in Oct. of 2023. A decision was made to forego Clemson Plant sales in Fall and Spring since the club would no longer be making any profits from their sale. Fran also made a suggestion to move banks due to security reasons when making deposits.

MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

- Neil Richardson volunteered to gather information about the Anderson Farmer's Market for dates and participation fees. Another possible venue suggested was the Greenville Farmer's Market April 26th. Kelvin Bryant is also researching other possible venues for our daylily sales.
- David Hoechst offered to provide daylilies for our club auction in May (note-new date) at a cost of $750.00 for 50 plants. What a super deal!
- Neil volunteered to host the seedling bed when we host the 2026 Regional. Also, Brenda Coggins suggested that we need to start searching for a special speaker for 2026 Regional as well.
- Neil was going to ask Jim Murphy.

MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

- Terri Honeycutt took pictures of our Daylily Garden in Clemson Botanical Gardens. He reported that it is in pretty good shape with fewer weeds than expected. He suggested we'd need approximately 2 yds of mulch to fill in bare areas.
- A suggestion was then made by David Hoechst to add more daylilies to the garden. We are supposed to have at least 100 to represent our region. Currently, we are a few under that total.

MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

- As was mentioned in our last month's newsletter, Margo Reed and Jim Murphy are our selected hybridizers to help increase club's daylily collection. Neil has provided us with a list of their daylilies (mostly spiders). If you would like to see their pictures; their website address is www.woodhengegardens.com
- Please remember to send a selfie and any changes to email addresses to Jill at jburriss@anderson4.org .
- She is trying to get our club booklet ready for publishing and needs your help! 😁 She hopes that booklets will be ready for our next meeting in April.
- I made more name tags for some new members still needing one. If you don't see your/spouse's tag at the next meeting, please let me know!

FUN IN THE GARDEN ANYONE?

Take a yellow cup and cover with Vaseline to attract APHIDS away From your daylilies! APHIDS are Attracted to the color yellow. Who knew!!

LOVED THIS ROCK! 🌱

You can also cut up a milk jug to create a shovel or pan to wipe up excess soil.

Cut the bottom of milk jug into the shape of a scooper and use it to scoop mulch or soil in your garden.

Happy Gardening!
